Subject: Suspicious Order Monitoring Training Notes from Bulk Narcotic Sales Meeting Presentation
Attachments: Customer Checklist.doc; Suspicious Order Monitoring Training Presentation.ppt

An Introductory Controlled Substance Suspicious Order Monitoring Training for Field Sales Presentation was delivered by Bill Ratliff and I yesterday at the Domestic Sales Meeting for Bulk Narcotics. Attached is the powerpoint presentation and draft Customer Checklist that were discussed.

Feedback was very positive and there were good suggestions about which type of bulk customers might be considered for automatic exemption such as universities and customers who have an existing registered product, having filed an NDA or ANDA petition with FDA.

Further, a request that bulk narcotics CSRs be given some type of substantive guidance in terms of acceptance of orders on Research or Analytical Lab DEA 222 forms.

The group found it significant and noteworthy that confirmation of a customer's current DEA registration status and receipt of a DEA 222 Form are not alone adequate in determining whether an order is suspicious.

We encouraged additional comments and feedback on the draft Customer Checklist and list of triggers, there was no opposition to the concept that Field Sales is key in knowing our customers and that Customer Checklist would be an integral part of the revised Suspicious Order Monitoring Program.
